Moles / Skin Tags / Warts / spider veins

CO2 laser is the most effective and result orientated treatment in the removal of most skin lesions.

By vaporising the skin cells in the area with the Ultra pulse CO2 laser the area is left in tact with little to no blood or plasma evident during procedure, this allows for a much quicker healing and recovery time (and for the laser to treat lesions on the most sensitive parts of the body e.g. genital warts and papules) A light scab forms almost immediately which then falls off after a few days revealing slightly pink skin beneath which then eventually returns to the natural skin colour.

A once off session is required; in a very few cases a 2nd session might be required and this is due to size, depth and location of the lesion.

The treatment is mildly uncomfortable (anaesthetic is provided if required), the treatment area is left slightly red and swollen.

No down time is required. Area can be cleansed with warm water but otherwise should be kept as dry as possible.
